New Building Bids Revealed Tuesday

Three contracts for the construction of Omaha University's proposed wing to the Applied Arts Building are expected to be awarded next week.

It was revealed at a bid opening Tuesday that Cooper Construction Co. submitted the low base bid of $243,975 for the general construction of the proposed addition. Cooper's offer was the lowest of the dozen submitted to the Board of Regents.

B. Grunwald, Inc., submitted the price of $75,327—the lowest of six trying for the mechanical contract.

For the electrical contract, H. W. Miller Electric undershot eight other firms with the low bid of $24,240.

Cooper indicated its completion date would be Sept. 1, 1962. The University is shooting for that date in hopes the new wing will be available for use at the start of the fall term.

Regents President E. F. Borchers told the contractors the Board would give each of the bids "careful consideration" and announce the awarding of the contracts next week.

The wing is to project into the parking lot immediately south of the Applied Arts Building. The already-constructed lot at the northwest corner of the campus is to help relieve any additional pressure for parking space the wing may cause.

Blueprints for the 84x116-foot addition were prepared by the architectural firm of John Latenser and Sons.

The two-story wing will contain 10 classrooms, four lecture rooms, two engineering labs and 12 faculty offices. The added space will have a capacity of 405 students.

Faculty Group Checks Records

The objective of the Committee on Academic Standing is to maintain academic standards by which students will be moving toward a college degree.

Many students are not aware that such a committee exists and that it exercises the right to place students on probation or suspend them from the University when their grade averages fall below the rate of academic progress expected of them.

The committee consists of seven faculty members, including a chairman, one representative from each of the five colleges and the Director of Admissions.

What are the factors which determine whether a student should be placed on academic probation?

FRESHMAN—when any semester average falls below 1.2 or cumulative average falls below 1.5 at the time he has earned 12-26 hours of credit.

SENIOR—when any semester average falls below 2.0 or the cumulative average falls below 2.0 at the end of the senior year.

To remove the probation status, a student must earn the required minimum semester point average or raise his cumulative average to the required minimum for his academic classification.

If a student fails to meet the above requirements after one semester on probation, the committee may either continue the probation or suspend the student, depending on how the committee members view the student's record.

After a student has been suspended for one semester, he may apply for readmission. However, the committee usually does not grant permission for re-registration until a student has been suspended for one year, unless special circumstances warrant it.

Dr. George Harris, professor of business administration and chairman of the committee, said, "Probation is usually automatic, resulting directly from the student's grade average; however, suspension is not automatic, but results only from direct action by the committee."

Twisters Beware T.G.I.F. Coming

Today begins a series of TGIF (Thank God It's Friday) parties to be held each week on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Ouami Room.

The Student Activities Committee has purchased new records (including two dozen "twist" records) for the parties.

In addition to the records, any student combo or musical group on campus can volunteer to play for the dances. Anyone wishing to do so should contact William J. Gerbracht or anyone on the Student Program Committee.

Speakeasies Held In Student Center

The first "speakeasy" of the semester will be held Feb. 12 in Alcoves C and D of the Student Center at 12:30 p.m.

The "speakeasies" are informal gatherings of persons interested in public speaking. One-minute "impromptu" speeches and longer, more formal speeches are planned.

Surprise subjects are selected by Dr. Aldrich Paul and Warren Gore, both of the speech department. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Mr. Gore suggests that each person brings his meal to the alcove.

Jr. Prom Election Rules Announced

The Student Council has announced a revision of the election rules for the upcoming Junior Prom election, February 21.

A meeting was held Monday evening of all Junior Prom candidates and their organization presidents for clarification of election rules.

The rules are as follows:

1. There shall be no off-campus campaigning. This is to eliminate letters, telephone calls, post cards, literature, parties, etc.

2. On-campus campaigning shall not be conducted on the entire second floor of the Student Center, or the library. This is to eliminate all gimmicks, signs, posters, hand bills, loud speakers, card displays and car tags in parking lots and on campus grounds. On election day name tags shall be restricted on the second floor of the Student Center.

3. There shall be no definitely assigned campaigning positions any place on campus.

4. There shall be no organized campaigning in the outer lobby of the Student Center or any other place on campus any time prior to or on the day of the election. This leaves campaigning on an individual basis employing casual conversation.

5. On election day, a Student Council member will be placed in the entryway of the Student Center for the purpose of encouraging students to vote—NOT for a particular candidate, but to vote.

6. Each candidate shall be limited to two posters, one 15x20 inches and the other 15x11 inches. Both must be submitted to the Dean of Student Personnel Office with a 3x5 card giving the following information: name, age, class, major field and list of activities.

Candidates may distribute name tags to be worn the day of the election.

7. There shall be none of the above approved campaign literature distributed anywhere.

Official Notices

Petitions are due today for Junior Prom Queen candidates. They must be turned into the Dean of Students office in the Student Center building by 4:45 p.m.

Today is the last day for adding credit classes to a day school schedule. A $6 fee for late registration must be paid.

If a student drops a course or withdraws through Feb. 16, he will receive a refund of 75 per cent of his tuition; from Feb. 19 through March 2, 50 per cent, and from March 5 through March 16, 25 per cent. If a student drops a course or withdraws after March 16, no refunds of tuition will be issued.

Malanie Jeub Is 1962-63 Tomahawk Editor

Malanie Jeub was appointed editor of the 1962-63 Tomahawk, Omaha University's yearbook, by the Board of Student Publications January 19. Her term officially begins March 1.

Malanie is a sophomore majoring in journalism and minoring in French.

Tentatively, she said, she plans to change the lay-out structure of the Tomahawk from the month-by-month records, as it will be for this year, to a university organizational structure.

Malanie, a North High graduate, was picture editor of the yearbook there and a reporter on the school paper. She is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and is publicity chairman of the French club. Last year Malanie was elected "Typical Freshman."

The Tomahawk staff will be named in two weeks, Malanie said.

Making plans . . . Malanie Jeub.

Yelkin Appointed NCAA Meet Boss

Omaha University Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin, who doubles as the Indian baseball coach, has been named Director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association College World Series to be held in Omaha June 11-15. OU will be the host school for the Series.

Yelkin was handed the job at a special press conference with NCAA officials January 30. He succeeds the late A. J. Lewandowski of the University of Nebraska.

Virgil Yelkin

braska, who held the post for several years. At present, Yelkin is also the chairman of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Baseball Committee.

Yelkin said it is the attempt of the NCAA to choose someone near the site of the tourney to run the series.

As a result of the meeting OU will not seek a repeat berth in the NCAA championships here. The Indians have gone to the NAIA championships the last three years finishing second in 1959, third last year and fifth in 1960.

Yelkin said that if the Indians' record this coming season merited it, they would probably meet either the Missouri Valley Conference champion or the Big Eight Conference champ in a play-off for a berth to the series.

One change brought about by the action is that the NCAA bars freshmen from varsity participation and allows a player only three years of varsity competition while the NAIA allows the participant four years of varsity duty.

OU's ball club would, therefore, be without the services of three seniors who have used up their three years allotted under the NCAA regulations and all freshmen in a play-off.

Yelkin noted that the seniors will not be deprived of their last year of regular season competition and said that freshmen will be allowed to compete on a varsity basis this year if they so desire. He said a new program for the freshmen may be set up in the future as the ultimate goal of the University to affiliate with the NCAA.

The change in the baseball program will not affect OU's current affiliation with the NAIA in any other sports.

OU has been a member of both the NAIA and the NCAA for the past few years but has played under NAIA rules for the most part.

Omaha University President Dr. Milo Bail said, "This is a recognition of Yelkin's ability as a coach and Athletic Director and the administration is happy to cooperate with the College World Series and the NCAA."

Dr. Bail hopes pep organizations on campus will get behind the series 100 per cent with maximum support from the student body.

Student Music Talent Sought Oratorio Planned Comedy in April

The Omaha University Choir is sponsoring a party to introduce interested students to the new oratorio section of the choir, to be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the Student Center in Room 312.

The first presentation of the section, scheduled for May 22, will feature Hayden's "Lord Nelson Mass" and the "St. Nicholas Oratorio" by Britten.

An oratorio carries a plot but differs from an opera in that there is less emphasis on action and setting.

John D. Miller, associate professor of music, announced that the new section is open to all University of Omaha students without audition try-outs and is a one-credit course. The class will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m.

Interested students may either attend the party or contact Professor Miller or any Choir member.

Comedy in April

"Li'l Abner" is the next spring musical production at Omaha University, Dr. Edwin Clark, director of the University Theater, announced this week.

The production will be April 12, 13 and 14. Tryout dates are tentatively scheduled for March 12, 13 and 14.

Dr. Clark said that the presentation of the Broadway comedy hit is "consistent with the University's policy of bringing to the student body the best possible dramatic materials."

Vocalists Needed

Vocalists are being sought by the Omaha University Concert Band to participate in a second semester concert featuring Broadway musical selections.

Auditions for male or female vocal soloists to perform with the band will be held Friday, February 16, at 3:30 p.m. in the Music Building.

Students who wish to participate must see band director Jack Malick prior to auditioning.

CAE Registration Up Seven Percent

Registration for the spring evening classes in the College of Adult Education totals 2,870, according to Dean Donald Z. Woods of CAE. This figure is seven percent above the enrollment of last spring and includes registration at Offutt, Lincoln Air Force Base, South Omaha and the campus program.

Although all registration for Community Service Courses is not complete, an enrollment of 1,100 is anticipated. In addition to this figure, several hundred people are registered in special short courses arranged for business, industry and professional groups in the community.

Registrar, Alice Smith, states that the advance registration by mail for CAE courses helped make the registration process operate more smoothly.

Speaking of Loyalty

Speaking with all the enthusiasms of a sophomore in her first semester on the Student Activities Committee, the girl held her coffee cup in mid-air as she told of the multiplicity of obstacles which beset the committee in the planning of programs for students.

"One of our biggest problems," she said, is student attendance. What good is it to plan things and have no one come?"

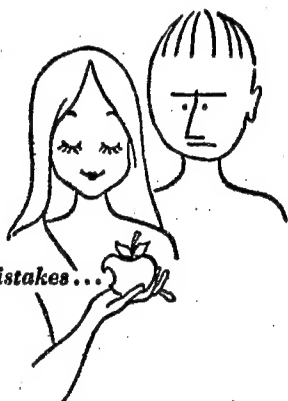

She looked at her audience of two bootstrappers and two "regulars." "Well, what kind of activity at OU would you attend?"

Each was stuck for an answer.

It crops up every so often: in President Bail's office, in classes and in the Ouampi Room. What does it take to stimulate participation and support in things extra-curricular?

Perhaps the answer lies in the "reinforcement" concept of psychology, where a reward induces a desired response.

This brings up the problem of how to make the reward attractive. Could students be impressed with the intangible benefits of supporting a team, attending a school dance, or simply feeling a sense of loyalty to a university? These things cannot be told. They must be felt.

Recital at Joslyn Features OU Frosh

By Tom Utts

An hour of piano stylings will be presented by a young Omaha University student in a recital ranging from the classical to an original modern composition.

In a "Pianoforte Recital," sponsored by C. Ruskin Sandbourne, James Kaspar will be presented in a one piano recital at the Joslyn Recital Hall on Sunday, February 11, at 3:30 p.m.

The recital will include six selections, "Fantasia in C minor" by J. S. Bach; "Sonata in E minor, Op. 90" by Beethoven; "Sonata in E major" by C. Ruskin Sandbourne; "Woodcuts Op. 65" by N. V. Bentzon; "Two Southern Chines Melodies Op. 18" by Harry Ore, and an original composition "Suite for Young Concert Artists" by James Kaspar, receiving its premier performance.

Jim Kaspar is a freshman at OU. He is majoring in foreign languages, and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. "My eventual ambition is to become an orchestra conductor," Jim said, "but that is quite a way off."

Presently Jim is limiting his musical activity to performing and composing. In the Spring, several of his original works will be published, including his "Sonata for Two Pianos," an especially radical composition based on two interacting themes of the Russian composer Shostakovich.

Jim said that his original compositions "strive to break away from the bonds of present day conservatism through the use of slight jazz elements tempered with reasonable taste and dissonance."

An example is his "Suite for Young Concert Artists," which will be performed at the recital.

Jim's background includes several performances. At Benson High School, where he graduated, he played the Grieg Concerto, accompanied by the Benson High Orchestra.

And earlier this year he participated in a two piano recital with Bruce Buetow at Joslyn.

The two have future plans of going on a two piano musical tour and playing on university campuses.

Glancing across the "articles of lasting interest" which appear each month in Reader's Digest can sometimes be a fascinating pastime in itself.

As the nation's top-selling magazine, the Digest is apparently a reflection of what the people are reading nowadays but scanning the contents sometimes make me wonder.

I don't mean any individual article, but rather two or three of the titles taken together.

In this month's issue, for instance, "Want to Make a Million Dollars?" is on page 116. Elsewhere is "Case of the Blasted Bank" then "Life on Honey-moon Island."

And if you don't like the system described in "How Your Body Fights Infection," you may find an alternative in "Plants That Eat Insects."

While one article asks "Do We Intend to Win the Cold War?" the answer is perhaps found in "Big Search for a Defense Against Missiles."

But the one that really gets me is the situation revealed by learning that "America's Population Crisis Is Here and Now" just after reading "One Woman, Two Lives."

Or maybe that population bit is explained in "Romance vs. Sex Appeal."

Two Additions to Sports Staff Are Gorman, Taylor

By Tom Ash

Two additions were made to the Omaha University sports program at the beginning of the second semester.

One was a new face, the other a familiar one.

The new arrival is 23-year-old Norm Taylor, who replaces Dick Kaegel as Sports Publicity Director.

Norm comes to OU from the Dawson County Herald where he says he "did most anything," including sports editor and advertising manager.

He worked on the Lexington, Nebr. paper for about two years after spending five years in Lincoln.

While in the capitol city, he attended the University of Nebraska, worked for the Lincoln Journal, and spent four years as assistant Sports Publicity Director under John Bentley at the university.

Norm says he is shy a few hours for a degree in journalism. He plans to complete his schooling, but he doesn't know when.

He met his wife, Polly, in his home town of Overton, Nebr. They have been married five years and have one child, four-year-old Gail.

The familiar face belongs to Russ Gorman, who returns to Omaha U after one semester's absence.

Mr. Gorman took a leave of absence during the fall semester to complete work on his Doctorate in Physical Education at Indiana University.

He has been the Indians' wrestling coach for the past four years but will drop his wrestling duties to assume the post of Director of Physical Education. He had been acting director.

Mr. Gorman said that to complete his Doctorate, he must now write a dissertation which will take about two years.

Gorman

Taylor

He has spent the past three summers, in addition to last semester, at the Bloomington, Ind. school working on the degree.

He took his family, which includes four children, with him during his stay in the Hoosier State.

Dance Troupe Plans Practices for Tryouts

Orchesis, the modern dance honorary, has scheduled two practices, Feb. 20 and 22, in preparation for tryouts, Feb. 27. Both the practices and tryouts will be at 5 p.m. in the West Quonset.

The practice sessions will give prospective members the opportunity to gain experience and instruction in improvisation, technique and other phases of modern dance. All students, both male and female, are eligible to tryout.

At the Central Association of Physical Education for College Women Convention March 19, Orchesis will present a dance program, containing numbers from their fall concert. The 3 p.m. show in the Student Center will entertain college physical education teachers from a seven-state area.

If an activity card is lost during the first nine weeks of school, a student is charged $3 for a duplicate copy; after the ninth week, the fee is $1.50.

University Strives to Eliminate Absences

In order to clarify and define the term "excused" absence, the University of Omaha policy on absences are as follows:

1. Attendance records are kept.
2. The University expects students to attend all classes and does not have a system of "cuts."

3. An "Excused" absence means that the student will be given the opportunity to make up the work he missed—not that he is "forgiven" for being absent or that the required work will be "overlooked" in his case.

4. The University does not have a policy which permits a student to be absent from all class meetings and then, without being subject to any penalty, take the final examination.

Independents Sweetheart Dance

Anita Lee and Donald Baird reigned as "Sweetheart" and "Best Beau" at the Independent Student Association's annual Sweetheart Dance last Friday night in the Carter Lake Country Club ballroom.

Jane Matthews, secretary, was in charge of the program.

Music was provided by the "Commanders."

Rosebuds Named

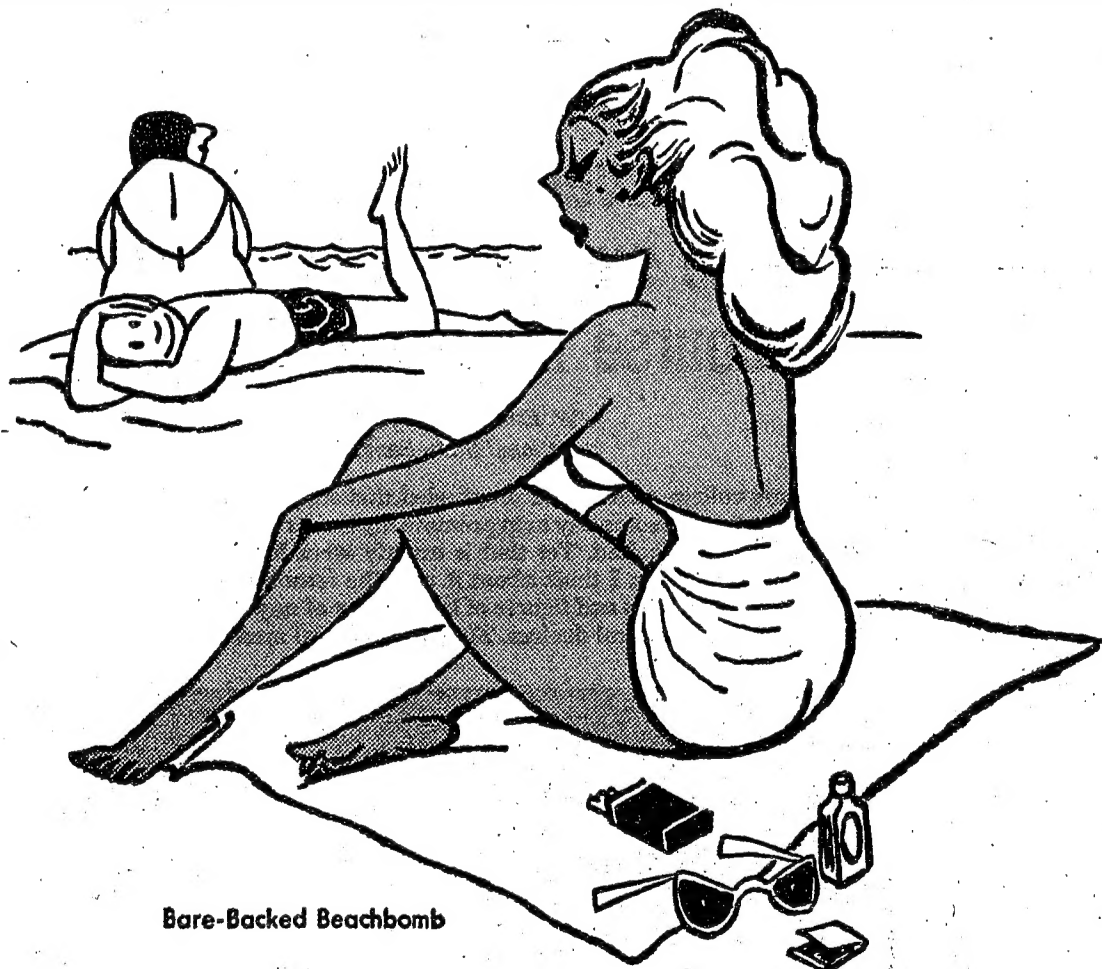

The Gamma Eta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi will announce their "Rose of Delta Sig" at their dance in April.

The candidates, who were chosen by a committee of five headed by Ron Swain, are Jane Samson, Unaffiliated; Carolyn Karre, Sigma Kappa; Carol Ann Ehinger, Chi Omega; Midge Butters, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Lee Burrill, Alpha Xi Delta. Last year's queen was Charon Allen of Chi Omega.

Bare-Backed Beachbomb

LESSON 2 - What about standards?

Advanced students of girl watching never waste eyeball effort watching girls who are not beautiful. Standards must be kept high.

But how do we judge whether a girl is worth watching? Although many strict academicians will shudder at our aesthetics, we must insist that a girl is beautiful if she is beautiful to you. (That's the beauty of girl watching. Every girl is beautiful to someone!) For example, many observers have pointed out that the Bare-Backed Beachbomb (see above) has a weak chin.

Yet none of these keen-eyed experts would deny that she is indeed an attractive specimen. And, speaking of standards, don't forget to keep your smoking standards high. Smoke Pall Mall!

He was crowned by Terry Olsen, Sigma Phi Epsilon, last year's King Satan.

Other candidates were Jim Leslie of Pi Kappa Alpha, Chuck Ellis of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lee Kallstrom of Theta Chi and Dick Skalla of Lambda Chi Alpha.

The dance centered around the theme of "Devil in the Deep Blue Sea" and was decorated accordingly to it.

Cagers Still Seek First CIC Win After Sour Road Swing

Omaha University, still seeking its first CIC win of the year, will take on the Fort Hays Tigers tomorrow night in the Fieldhouse.

Fort Hays took an earlier 71-65 decision from the Indians at Fort Hays and is in second place in the CIC.

Omaha will be seeking to escape a blanking in the conference in which they have won only one game in three years in basketball.

The Indians have lost three straight and are 4-11 for the year.

On Tuesday, Omaha will play host to all-conference foe Augustana of the North Central Conference.

The Vikings are in the thick of their conference battle and boast two all-NCC selections in 6 ft. 7 in. Dave McCracken and 6 ft. 3 in. Phil Miedema.

Augustana earlier defeated Morningside 86-57, a team which Omaha beat 55-53.

Lose to Washburn

OU suffered its third straight defeat and second to Washburn this season 65-57 Tuesday night on the Fieldhouse court.

The loss, Omaha's sixth straight in CIC play, assured the Indians of a last place finish for the third straight year. The Indians won only one conference game last year.

The contest, similar to Washburn's earlier 61-54 verdict at Topeka, was close all the way and neither team held a commanding lead.

Omaha led at one point 11-10, but fell behind and never regained the lead from the Ichabods, who raced to a 31-27 half-time lead.

After intermission, the Kansans widened the gap to 51-39 before the Indians staged a late comeback that brought the score to 58-53 with 2:53 left.

Washburn then went to a stall and the eager Indians drew several costly fouls which enabled the Ichabods to put the game out of reach.

Coach Jim Borsheim used his starters almost the entire game, not substituting until 2:11 when Dave Hagglund entered.

Omaha scoring was evenly balanced with Bruce Hunter netting 15, Larry Villnow 16, Paul Kaster, 15, and Joe Neuberger 13.

CIC Leaders Annex

The Indians opened a two-game tour of Kansas with an 88-55 drubbing at the hands of the CIC leader St. Benedict's last Friday at Atchison.

The Indians fell behind early and the Ravens pulled away behind the hot shooting of John Ritter and Carl Pratt to lead at the half 46-28.

Shortly after the half, Omaha lost 6 ft. 7 in. Larry Villnow on an injury and the outmanned Indians lost their last chance as the Ravens proceeded to control the boards.

Paul Kaster, making his first appearance for the Indians since becoming eligible, led the Omahans with 19 points.

The win was the 12th in a row for the powerful Ravens.

Road Trip Climax

Omaha University dropped a 75-59 decision to Pittsburg State the following night to climax the unsuccessful road trip.

Pittsburg was at a disadvantage with the loss of several key players and Omaha jumped off to an early lead before suddenly losing its poise.

Omaha led 34-28 before Pittsburg came back to lead 38-30 at the half.

Paul Kaster led the Indians for the second straight night, getting 23 points and a fine floor game.

Young Track Team Works With Cardwell

Coach Lloyd Cardwell is working with a young team this year with seven returning lettermen out of his 25 men.

Cardwell says that even though the team is young, they have been working hard and predicts steady improvement.

Indoor track is new to most of the men just coming from high school and they will have to adjust to the difference.

With all of the new men out for track, Cardwell will be trying to take more second, third and fourth places along with the first places that were captured last year.

February 15 OU will entertain South Dakota University and Emporia State at 7:00 in the Fieldhouse.

Wrestling Team Travels to Illinois

The wrestling team will leave this afternoon at 1:00 o'clock by car for Dekalb, Illinois for their match with Northern Illinois University tomorrow night at 8 a.m.

The match, postponed from January 6 against William Jewell of Liberty, Missouri was held Wednesday night in the Omaha University Fieldhouse.

Coach Al Cagniglia is counting on help in the 130 lb. weight class from sophomore Jim Fuxa. Fuxa is a transfer from Nebraska University and was sitting out first semester eligibility.

It was the leeches who topped the second league finishing with six wins and one loss with the PE Majors and Lorpees in a tie for second with 5-2 records.

In the third league the Lit' Pikes walked off with the top spot by winning six and losing one. The Rinky Dinks and the Bouncers tied for the runner-up position with 4-2 records.

The Sig Eps went undefeated in winning the intrafraternity championship with Theta Chi finishing second and the Pi Kaps third.

Career Cues:

"Whatever your major, make sure to include a course in 'people'!"

W. Emlen Roosevelt, President
National State Bank, Elizabeth, N. J.

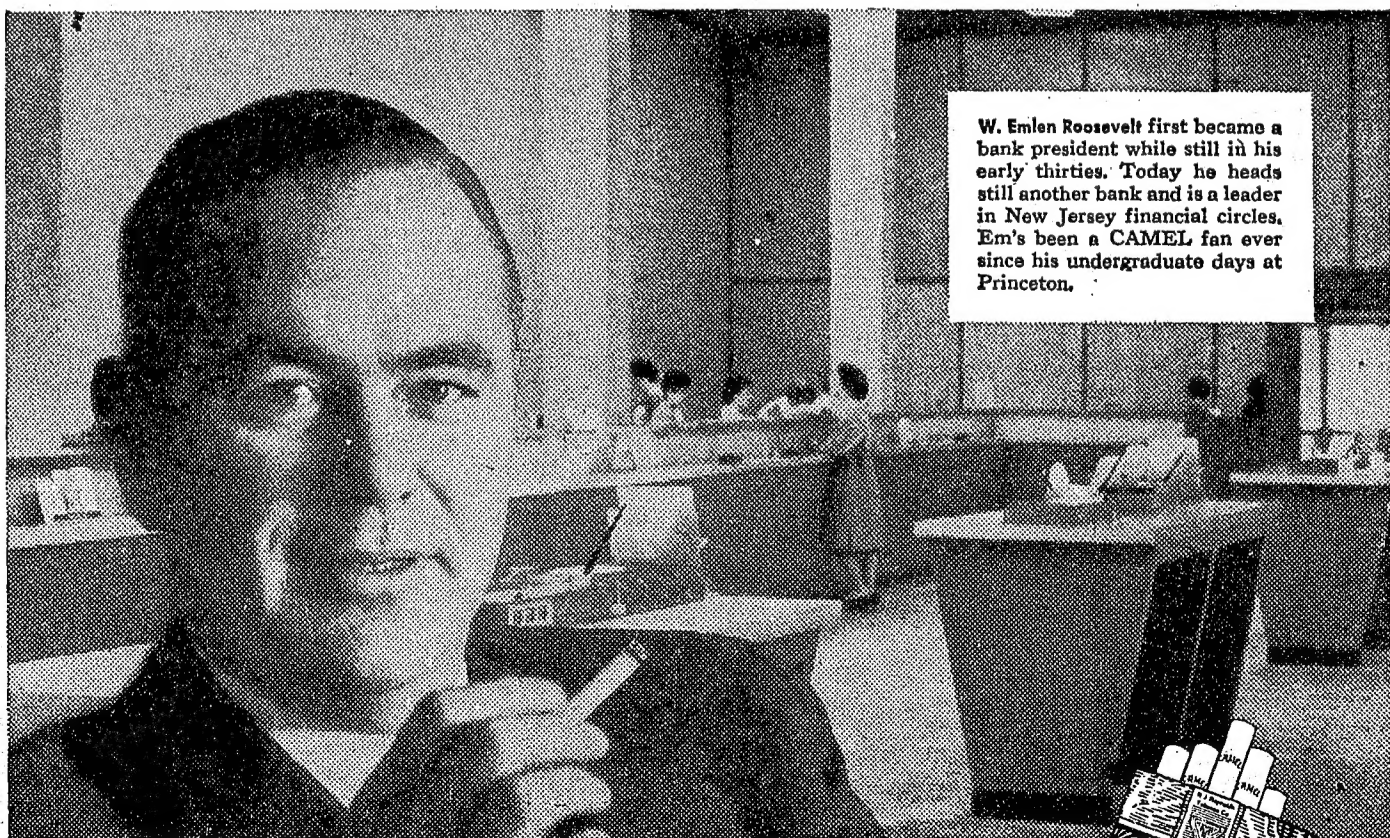

"If my college adviser had prophesied that studying psychology would some day help promote my career in banking, I'd have scoffed. Yet that is exactly what has happened. And when I think about it now the reason seems obvious. The facts and figures of banking, or of any other field, are mechanical devices. They take on real meaning only when related to people.

"Good psychology is also the basis of all teamwork. And, since most of today's business and scientific problems are too complicated for 'one man' solutions, teamwork is essential. If you want to be a valuable team player, and a likely candidate for captain, be the person who understands people. Learn what it takes for people to work together in harmony. Learn how to win trust and confidence. Learn basic human psychology.

"Bear this in mind, too. World tension, community tension, business tension, even family tension are the facts of everyday life. The more you know of human behavior, the better prepared you will be to deal with these problems.

"So, if you have the chance, take a course devoted to 'people.' Your class adviser can probably help you fit a psychology elective into your schedule. I don't think you'll regret it... I know I didn't."

W. Emlen Roosevelt first became a bank president while still in his early thirties. Today he heads still another bank and is a leader in New Jersey financial circles. Em's been a CAMEL fan ever since his undergraduate days at Princeton.

Caniglia Named Coach of the Year

Omaha University's Al Caniglia has been named Little All-American Football Coach of the Year by the Rockne Club.

Caniglia was cited for the improvement his 1961 team made over the previous seasons. The team rallied for a 6-3 record after a 1-7-1 record the previous season.

O. U. came from the bottom of the barrel in the Central Intercollegiate Conference in 1960 to finish second this past season.

The award will be presented at the Rockne Testimonial Award Dinner March 1st in Kansas City.

On the same program will be Texas University Coach Darrell Royal, who won the big college coaching award, Arthur Daly, Sports writer for the New York Times, and Sports caster Mel Allen.

Caniglia is the second Omaha U. coach to be honored by the Rockne Club. Lloyd Cardwell earned the award after his 1954 club won the Tangerine Bowl in a 10-0 season.
